

RED EYE

Monday
June 25, 2007

An edition of the Chicago Tribune
redye.chicago.com

2 REDEYE

200

MONDAY, JUNE 25

YOUR ATTENTION

In a lot of ways, RedEye's CTA blog is like a good soap opera. This week, copy editor Jim Walsh learns a secret that has a profound effect on his life. Don't miss his shocking confession and all the other story lines at redye.chicago.com/ctablog.

To view

Head to Kiva Day Spa's (196 E. Pearson St.) annual bridal event from 6 to 9 tonight for a bridal fashion show, champagne reception and chance to win a free wedding gown. To RSVP, call 312-840-8112. Free.

To sing

Enter Oscar Mayer's "Sing the Jingle, Be a Star" contest for a chance to be in a TV commercial next year. Put your own twist on one of the company's famous jingles and upload it at singthejingle.com.

To entertain

The Web site oh-audrey.com has tips on making lip-smacking treats for your guests. Watch videos on making homemade pasta, flower arrangements, peanut butter balls and more.

BAG IT UP

Ladies, need a handbag for summer? Check out the offerings at new store Bess & Loie (1015 W. Lake St.); all spring and summer bags are now 25 percent to 50 percent off. Bring your guy—he can chill in front the large-screen TV while you shop.